

Emory University Strategic Plan: 2005 – 2015
Reporting Period of September 2005 through October 2010

ACCOMPLISHMENTS AND GOALS: SCHOOLS AND OPERATING UNITS

Emory's schools and major operating units have made significant progress toward accomplishing University-wide goals as well as entity-specific goals. The following summarizes many, but not all significant accomplishments from the past five years.

---

College of Arts and Sciences
Robin Forman, Dean

Accomplishments: 2005 – 2010

Over the past five years, student access to Emory College of Arts and Sciences (ECAS) has dramatically expanded due to Emory Advantage, Emory's signature student aid program for middle income families. This has resulted in an average of $6.3 million in assistance provided to 802 new and returning students in 2010. Eighty-three percent of the 2010 graduating seniors in ECAS were "satisfied" or "very satisfied" with their academic experience. Programs such as Pre-Major Advising Connections (PACE) and Pre-Health Mentoring were designed and implemented, improving student access to academic advising resources. General Education Requirements were dramatically reformed, allowing students more flexibility in course selection while ensuring a comprehensive liberal arts education. The College has undertaken an extensive review of their institutes, centers, and programs, beginning with self-studies and site visits to 35 units, and continues to fold the results into ongoing program improvements. ECAS welcomed Dean Robin Forman in 2010.

Goals: 2010 – 2015

- 1) Cultivate a diverse and intellectually vibrant community by recruiting and retaining outstanding students, distinguished faculty and excellent staff
- 2) Focus on areas of academic strength where Emory can achieve genuine distinction
- 3) Create a distinctive social and physical environment that enriches the intellectual work and lives of faculty, students and staff